

Wright State University - Nano-Network Meeting

Multifunctional Nanomaterials: Cross-cutting Growth Opportunities in Energy, Environment and Aerospace Applications

When: 9:30 – 4:00, May 24, 2010.
Where: Apollo Room, 160 Student Union, Wright State University, Dayton, Ohio
Registration: Free, but required. Please register directly at <http://www.polymerohio.org/cart/content/nano-network-wright-state-joint-meeting>

Many nanoscale materials and structures exhibit a unique combination of properties that can be exploited in multiple end products important for the future growth of this region. The aim of this networking event is to bring together leaders from academia, industry, and Air Force to discuss possible growth options and collaborative opportunities. Panelists from companies, AFRL and economic development agencies will present their perspectives on the future of this vibrant field, and on the strategic paths charted by their organizations.

Registration is free, but required for lunch planning (please use the website indicated above). A poster session is also planned for participants to highlight their research interests. Since poster slots are limited, please reserve your spot as soon as possible by emailing your title and abstract to the organizers listed below.

Organizers:

- Dr. Sharmila M. Mukhopadhyay, Wright State University
Email: smukhopa@wright.edu
- Ken Vaughan, NanoNetwork, Polymer Ohio Inc.
Email: kvaughan@polymerohio.org

Speakers & Panelists:

David Burton, Applied Sciences Inc.
Dr. John Macguire, Mantech, Air Force Research Laboratory
Dr. Brian Stephens, GE Aviation
Dr. Dan Jones, Lockheed Martin
Beth Colbert, Ohio Department of Development
Chris Howard, VP, DDC Entrepreneur Program
Joseph Sprengard, CEO, General Nano LLC
Dr. John Busbee, Air Force Research Laboratory

